How To Use Your Care2 Nonprofit Email Welcome Series Kit

Why Use A Welcome Series

Congratulations, you've got new email subscribers who are passionate about your cause. Now it's time to properly introduce them to your nonprofit with an email welcome series.

Why use a welcome series? Because you only get one chance to make a first impression. Dumping a subscriber into your list with no explanation or recognition can be jarring, or worse, annoying. You do not want to annoy a new subscriber!

The welcome email may be the single most important email you send. Welcome emails are four times more likely to be opened, and five times more likely to get click throughs. A well-executed, well-timed welcome series can help you cultivate a healthier, more active email list, with more opens, more actions and fewer unsubscribes.

Sounds good, right! So, are you ready to make a great first impression and set the stage for high future engagement?

This Email Welcome Series Kit will help you give newcomers the special attention they need, gently welcome them to your work, and engage them more deeply in your mission.

Let's get started.

First, Let's Talk About Tone & Perspective

The most successful supporter communications put the supporter in the hero role, not the nonprofit. They flip perspective from “we” to “you,” and consistently show supporters the impact of their actions.

They speak directly to supporters, not as a faceless list, but as a person. Try this: read your communications out loud to another person. Sound inspiring, personal and direct, or institutional, impersonal and vague? Go for the personal tone...it may take some practice but the impact it can have on your communications will be profound.

Practically speaking, here's what supporter-centric tone and perspective look like:

Example

[nonprofit -focused] In 2014, we rose up to defend nature's gifts – our wildlife, our waterways, our treasured lands – for now and for generations to come.

[supporter-focused] In 2014, friends like you joined together to defend nature's gifts – our wildlife, our waterways, our treasured lands – for now and for generations to come.

Example 2

[nonprofit-focused] Well, we've done it again. In the first few months of 2015, we've racked up impressive wins for moms and families. Our hard work and perseverance are paying off!

[supporter-focused] Well, you've done it again. In the first few months of 2015, members like you played a key role in many impressive wins for moms and families. Your hard work and perseverance are paying off!

See the difference? Feel the difference? Your supporters do.

When Should I Send These Welcome Emails?

Launch your Welcome Series within one week of receiving your Care2 acquisition file, within a day or two if you can. Some organizations prefer to send one email per week; others find that spacing welcome messages every two weeks works better.

Make sure to measure, to see what kind of timing and content is right for your organization.

How Many Welcome Emails Should I Send?

We recommend sending three welcome emails, organized as follows:

Email 1: The Offer

This first email warmly welcomes new subscribers, and gives them something useful or helpful, like:

- Top resources from your website
- Your best blog posts
- Downloadable white paper or ebook
- Mobile app
- Discount
- Video

A sample Welcome Email is included in this kit. (NOTE: In the Sample Welcome Email, we've included a "soft ask," a call for donations in the P.S. for people who may be inspired to give right away. Don't be afraid to use this soft ask...you might be pleasantly surprised!)

Email 2: The Engagement

This email warmly welcomes new subscribers into your movement or community, and gives them something useful or helpful, like:

- Sign a pledge or petition to help advance the values you care about
- Take a survey. Your input will help shape our agenda and make Org. X a more effective champion for the issues you care about.
- Take a quiz. Test your knowledge and learn interesting facts.
- Volunteer your time and become a special part of our front-line efforts to win this fight.
- Connect on social networks like Facebook, Twitter and Instagram to meet other caring people, get breaking news first and see moving images of the things we are fighting for.

Email 3: The Ask

This email asks new constituents to deepen their commitment with a donation. Feel free to adapt your most successful e-appeal language for these new constituents.

A sample E-appeal Email, 2 copywriting lists — Go For It: 101 Ways to Ask for a Donation [p.13], and You Had Me At Hello: 55 Ideas for Strong Leads and Smooth Transitions [p.16] — and 2 real and successful e-appeals are included in this kit.

Feel free to mold and shape the sample copy for your specific nonprofit. You may want to mix things up, play with the order of the emails, or try an engagement technique not listed here.

Go for it! There's more than one path to success. The five most important things to remember when deploying a welcome series:

1. Deploy the Welcome Series as soon as possible.
2. Automate the series so you never forget an email.
3. Suppress new subscribers from your regular stream of communication until they have received all the emails in the Welcome Series.
4. Measure opens, clicks, conversions for each email, and make improvements to the series every few months... at least once a year.
5. Track your new acquisition segment in fundraising and advocacy campaigns. (Some nonprofits do this for years to help them gauge return-on-investment.)

Good Luck

Be sure to tell us what you think of the kit
findmypeople@care2team.com

*For advocacy organizations, Care2 recommends sending another advocacy email (like a petition or pledge) early in the welcome series, as email 1 or email 2. Since advocacy emails vary so widely, we skipped sample email copy. Instead, use the helpful copywriting list, Action: 101 phrases to use in petitions, pledges and other advocacy emails [p.11]

Email 1, "The Offer"

This is the first email in the Welcome Series. It should give subscribers something useful, helpful, even delightful! Suggestions include, but are not limited to:

- Tips
- Downloadable white paper or ebook
- A mobile app
- Fan favorite blog posts or articles
- Discount
- Introductory video
- Ecards

Welcome to WWF.

Dear Friend of WWF,

Our planet faces many big conservation challenges. Deforestation, overfishing, illegal wildlife trade, and climate change threaten animals and people all around the world.

No one person or organization can tackle these challenges alone, but together we can.

All of us—you, me and everyone else who stands with WWF—are solving the world's greatest environmental problems. Together, we protect amazing places and species around the world.

We can give a voice to all animals and be the heroes that nature needs.

Together, we are speaking up for rhinos, tigers, and elephants by committing to put an end to illegal wildlife trade. Pledge to do your part to ensure a future for people and vulnerable wildlife on our planet.

A better future for farm animals

YOUR CHANCE TO CHOOSE

Dear Sharanya,

As Christmas approaches, your goodwill to farm animals fills me with hope. This year you've fought inhumane slaughter festivals, got more animals out of cages and successfully opposed farm animal cloning. You've proved – again and again – that when you act, you transform the lives of animals.

So, what will you change next? This Christmas you can choose which farm animal injustice you'll fight next by donating to one of the key Compassion campaigns below.

Will you choose to:

- hold the world's most influential food companies to account?
- propel Europe towards the End of the Cage Age for ALL farm animals?
- put the brakes on cruel slaughter and long distance live transport?

If you can't choose, or would prefer not to, let Compassion

Will you help?

Things are finally looking up for more than 160 dogs and cats from Wednesday's rescue. Be a hero for animals like them with your special year-end gift today.

View this message on our website.

Dear Friend,

Last Wednesday our Animal Rescue Team was in Ohio, assisting with the rescue of more than 160 dogs and cats from a suspected neglect situation.

This was an especially horrific scene, according to our rescuers, who have through the years seen flashes of the worst of humanity.

Many of the dogs had been left to scavenge their meals from rotting deer carcasses. There were animals with severe eye and ear infections, flea and tick infestations, untreated wounds and mange. One of the dogs was missing an eye, another had a broken leg.

Please make more lifesaving work for animals possible by making your special holiday gift today -- because when we work together, animal cruelty cannot hide.

Our fight can often be an uphill battle. But we're always ready to take on the biggest challenges facing animals today.

We'll work to end cruelty on factory farms, support alternatives to testing on

DONATE

Dear Caroline,

Thank you for your loyal support as a dedicated monthly donor to USA for UNHCR.

This season, I want to invite you to incorporate USA for UNHCR into your holiday giving – it's a simple but powerful way to honor a loved one and make an even bigger difference for children and families in need.

Your gift in honor of a loved one can do so much. It can bring warm blankets, cookstoves and even a safe place to sleep to people who have little left. There's no greater gift to give than one that can bring hope for a brighter future to families and children in desperate need.

Here's how it works:

1. Make a gift to USA for UNHCR through our special holiday giving page.
2. Download and print one of our beautiful card designs to give to that special someone, letting them know a lifesaving gift has been made in their honor.
3. Your donation will go directly to help refugees most in need of lifesaving assistance this winter.

Now is a perfect time to show your loved ones how much they inspire you every day. Show your appreciation for those who matter most to you by honoring them with an urgent gift that can help save a life.

The holidays can be magical for children here in the United States, but for refugees from countries like Syria, Iraq and Lebanon, winter can be a frightening and dangerous time.

Now, children need warm clothes and heat in their homes. Sometimes, they live in makeshift shelters that can't even protect them from the freezing rain, and many times their parents don't know where their next meal will come from.

But, there's hope.

Gifts that seem so simple, gifts you can give through USA for UNHCR right now – a warm fleece blanket and bedding \(\$50\)...a stove to cook on \(\$100\)...coats, sweaters, hats, and scarves for an entire family \(\$200\) – can comfort a frightened, traumatized child and protect him or her this winter.

Thank you for bringing hope and comfort this holiday season and throughout the year.
